Duke University CIT
Strategic Initiative Grants
Spring 2008 Call for Proposals, Part 1

DUE DATE for application part 1: 5 p.m. January 31, 2008

Email completed application form to: cit@duke.edu with subject line "strategic initiative grant"	The due date for this initial application is somewhat flexible. CIT will begin review of applications on 1/31 and those submitted on time will have first priority for review and consultation. Faculty submitting accepted initial proposals will be asked to submit full proposals by 5 pm March 7, 2008.

Before you write your proposal…

CIT is offering grants to support instructional innovations with technology, aligned with Duke's strategic plan "Making a Difference." In particular, Chapter 4 of the plan highlights academic and instructionally-related goals, which CIT would like to support (see http://stratplan.duke.edu/ch04/1.html). Applicants are welcome to consult with CIT prior to completing this application; email cit@duke.edu to arrange an appointment.

Project information
Primary Investigator last name_____

Project title:

What is your project idea? (200 words or less):

Which Duke strategic plan goal(s) does this project support (review the plan at http://stratplan.duke.edu/)

Why is this project important to your program and your school (WHY are you hoping to do this project)? Your description should be written so as to be understandable to those outside your discipline. Include:
- How would this project change the way you teach in this class(es), or change how this topic/subject is typically taught?
- How do you expect the project to affect student learning in your class(es)? (i.e., what do you expect students to know or be able to do as a result of your project, which they might not otherwise?)
- What are your goals for the project?

Center for Instructional Technology is part of the Duke University Libraries
Box 90198 | Duke University | Durham, NC, 27708
Phone: 919.660.5806 | Fax: 919.668.2578 | Email: cit@duke.edu

Faculty/course information

Project PI full name:

Department:

Email:

Phone:

What is the best way to contact you about your proposal: ___email or ___phone

Will other faculty be involved in the project (if so, provide name, email address and department/school)?

For each course in which you think this project/activity would be initially used, list the following information:

Course number	Course title	Semester offered and instructor name Fall 2008 / Spring 2009 / Summer 2009 / Fall 2009 / Spring 2010	Anticipated enrollment
(Add rows as needed)

Name and email of school/department IT staff:

Name of department chair and academic dean (A&S, Engineering), or academic dean (Nursing, Law, Fuqua, NSOEE, Grad, Med, Divinity):

NOTE: if you are asked to provide a full proposal after the first review, we will require the signature of your department chair and divisional dean (A&S), or academic dean (other schools).

Center for Instructional Technology is part of the Duke University Libraries
Box 90198 | Duke University | Durham, NC, 27708
Phone: 919.660.5806 | Fax: 919.668.2578 | Email: cit@duke.edu